

FTNI
Payment Processing. Accelerated.

Don't Settle for Siloed Receivables Systems and Processes

Accepting multiple payment methods from your customers while using multiple platforms from various different third-party providers can result in a complex, inefficient and costly mix of disparate systems and processes.

What was supposed to be streamlined, has ended up siloed.

Put an end to payments siloing.

Save Time, Increase Efficiencies and Improve AR Oversight with Enhanced RDC Solutions.

Streamline Your Check and Remittance Processing Operations

As Waste Services business operations have become more complex, so too have the receivables processes associated with remittance from customers. The well understood routine of invoice and check is becoming ever-more disrupted by new options in payment methods and payment channels

Financial Transmission Network, Inc. (FTNI) helps Waste Services companies consolidate inefficient, expensive and siloed remittance processes onto an affordable, easily deployed, seamlessly integrated platform that is both bank and back-office agnostic.

Do More with Enhanced Remote Deposit Capture

Here's the bottom line: each time a set of eyes has to take another look at a payment in process, it costs you money.

Adding an enhanced RDC solution to your check processing operations doesn't have to mean adding complexity. When it's done right, RDC can actually move you toward a seamlessly integrated receivables solution that accepts any payment type from any payment channel.

Currently in use at leading waste services companies nationwide, FTNI's ETran integrated receivables hub provides enhanced Remote Deposit Capture (RDC), electronic invoice presentation and payment (EIPP), online and mobile payments—all on a single, secure, SaaS-based platform.

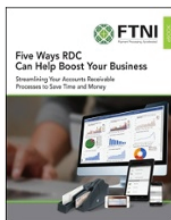

Enhanced RDC Solutions Will Allow You To:

- Accelerate payment processing time by up to 80%
- Automate payment posting via seamless back-office integrations
- Easily support centralized or distributed scanning environments
- Manage desktop and mobile RDC items via a single interface
- Conveniently access consolidated reporting and reconciliation data

Streamline Your Check and Remittance Processing Operations

Insurance companies are looking to innovate and streamline to take a competitive edge. Whether internally managing receivables or working with lockbox partners, integrated efficiency is the name of the game.

Financial Transmission Network, Inc. (FTNI) helps insurance companies consolidate inefficient, expensive and siloed remittance processes onto an affordable, easily deployed, seamlessly integrated platform that is both bank and back-office agnostic.

Do More with Enhanced Remote Deposit Capture

Here's the bottom line: each time a set of eyes has to take another look at a payment in process, it costs you money.

Adding an enhanced RDC solution to your check processing operations doesn't have to mean adding complexity. When it's done right, RDC can actually move you toward a seamlessly integrated receivables solution that accepts any payment type from any payment channel.

Currently in use at leading insurance companies across the U.S. and Canada, FTNI's integrated receivables hub, ETran, provides enhanced Remote Deposit Capture (RDC), electronic bill presentment and payment (EBPP), online and mobile payments—all on a single, secure, SaaS-based platform.

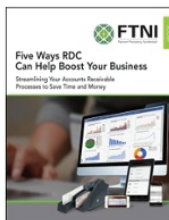

Enhanced RDC Solutions Will Allow You To:

- Conveniently scan single or multiple remittance documents (up to 8.5" x 11") to associate with each transaction
- Automate payment posting via seamless back-office integrations
- Easily support centralized or distributed scanning environments
- Manage desktop and mobile RDC items via a single interface

Better Together! Accept, Process and Post All Payment Methods from Any Payment Channel on a Single Platform.

Accept, Process and Post All Receivables on a Single, Seamlessly Integrated Platform

How many different payment methods are you accepting from your customers today? Across how many payment channels? Chances are more than one—in both cases.

But if you're having to leverage more than one platform within your receivables operations to facilitate the acceptance, processing and posting of these receivables items, that's too many.

Currently in use at leading insurance companies across the U.S. and Canada, FTNI's ETran integrated receivables platform provides enhanced Remote Deposit Capture (RDC), electronic invoice presentation and payment (EIPP), online and mobile payments — all on a single, secure, SaaS-based platform.

A fully-compliant (PCI, HIPAA, SSAE16 and more) 'plug-n-play' platform, ETran enables efficient integration (batch or real-time) with any back-office accounting system and works with your existing banking and merchant processor relationships. It unlocks enterprise-wide AR oversight from a unified interface to improve business insights and deliver real-time visibility into your entire receivables stream.

Physicians Mutual Accelerates Internal Lockbox Processing by 75% in the first 30 days on the ETran Platform.
